Bo Hanson, Performance Consultant at Athlete Assessments

Learning Objectives:

- Find out the step-by-step strategies implemented to completely overhaul the team culture to win
- Learn how behavior and communication styles influence productivity and success
- Value the importance of being able to re-energize coaching staff throughout the season

Key Points:

The usual expectation is that it takes two to three years to turn a program around. But what if you could turn around a program fast? This is exactly what your presenters will share with you.

South Coast Conference North Coach of the Year, Ali Carey-Oliver, achieved unprecedented success in only her first year as head coach at Mt. San Antonio College.

The key was being very deliberate in developing the team culture and developing phenomenal communication within the team.

Through this real-life case study, find out the step-by-step approach taken to lift the program to a new level and achieve what had never been done before, all in one year. The insights shared in this presentation are a ‘how to’ on turning around a program and the key things to get right from the very start and the key mistakes to never make again.
