Your individual physical metrics and your composite avcaVPI™ score are compared with current college players at your position. You also get the college average (50th percentile) and the 80th percentile. This information is available to all college recruiters and is used to encourage them to review your volleyball skills.
Give college coaches the information they need to contact you and/or your coaches. Including a GPA and SAT/ACT tests scores (when available) is helpful to coaches at private and/or highly selective colleges.
Uploading a 3-minute YouTube video gives college coaches a look at your volleyball skills. This is for setters and liberos and also helpful for attackers who want to show their passing, digging and serving skills.
Compare your attack, jump and speed metrics to identify areas where you can improve.
