What made you decide to get into coaching volleyball?

I knew from the time I was about 12 years old that I would be around volleyball for the rest of my life in some capacity. I absolutely love volleyball. It is a form of worship to my God who gave me these gifts when He created me.

What are your career goals in the sport?

I would like to leave people better than when I found them, and I would like to leave a last impact on the sport that has affected my life in such tremendous ways. I would love to start a College Men's Program. I would love to see if I could do both Womens and Mens at the same time. I want God to get His glory out of my career, however long that takes.

Which coaches have influenced you the most?

Jeanetter Regier was the first women to give me a chance to play the sport as the only boy in a girls church volleyball league. My oldest sister Haley was my first official volleyball coach, and I still carry with me how passionately and seriously she took her role as a coach. Scott Mebruer at HIP STL gave me a chance to play and coach for HiP which completely changed the trajectory of my volleyball career. My middle sister Molly Karagyaurov gave me the some of the greatest career and life lessons I carry with me to this day.

What do you enjoy most about your coaching job?

I love trying to figure people out and to see what they are capable of. Every single person on the planet is pretty incredible when you really look closely.
